

Small Chemical Businesses Division of the American Chemical Society Benefits of Membership

Anis Rahman¹, Jennifer L. Maclachlan¹, Joseph E. Sabol¹, Mukund Chorghade¹, Carlyn A. Burton¹, Erika L. Oltermann¹, Abhishek Kantak¹, George W. Ruger¹

INSTITUTIONS (ALL): 1. ACS Division of Small Chemical Businesses, Harrisburg, PA, United States.

About SCHB

The mission of the ACS Division of Small Chemical Businesses (SCHB) is to aid in the formation, development and growth of small chemical businesses. SCHB Division membership is ideal for who currently own and operate their own small chemical businesses, those who are considering entrepreneurship and those employed by a small chemical business. SCHB continuously provides relevant programming and networking events at ACS national, regional and often local section meetings. SCHB members can book a deeply discounted booth at the ACS National Meeting exposition and are entitled to a discounted SOCMA membership. There are opportunities for SCHB members to become SCHB patron members, increasing their visibility to the membership as well as the ability to sponsor specific SCHB networking events such as coffee breaks at National Meetings and/or networking speaker lunches. Interested in learning more about the Division or getting more involved? Join us at our social event in Philly, at one of our networking lunches or at our Executive Committee meeting. Between meetings you can connect with us on Facebook.com/SCHBD, Twitter.com/ACSSCHB or on our ACS Division of Small Chemical Businesses Linked-In page. Additionally, you can stay up to date with us via our web page accessible at acs-schb.org. We look forward to connecting with you.

Partner with SCHB

SCHB offers numerous networking opportunities at Local Section, National & Regional Meetings

SCHB is an active participant in the ACS Chemical Innovation and Entrepreneurship Council (ACS CIEC): A grass-roots coalition of the American Chemical Society organizational entities and partners whose charters include entrepreneurship

Via participation in the ACS CIEC, SCHB partnered with the ACS Division of Business Management and Development (BMGT) on the Entrepreneurial Resource Center Showcase East Event hosted by the Northeastern Local Section in April 2014 which earned a ChemLuminary Award for Outstanding Collaboration Between a Local Section and a Division

Awarded by the Committee on Local Section Activities &

Committee on Divisional Activities at the ACS Boston National Meeting on August 18, 2015

Northeastern Local Section, the Division of Business Development & Management, and the Division of Small Chemical Businesses
The Northeastern Section together with the Division of Small Chemical Businesses Chemical Innovation and Entrepreneurship Council, the Division of Business Development and Management, and Nova Biomedical presented the 2014 ACS Entrepreneurial Resource Center Showcase East Event, a chemistry-based business pitch competition.
This collaboration served as an outstanding example of how a Local Section and multiple ACS Divisions can work together to produce a successful entrepreneurial event.

Member Benefits

- Membership is free for the first year then $15 annual dues
- Deeply discounted booth exhibit space at National Meetings: Members MUST book through SCHB to receive this discount
- Business listing on our website with a link to your website
- Access to outstanding programming at National, Regional and NEW! In 2012 at Local Section Meetings

- NEW! in 2013:
 - Joint Networking Lunches with the ACS Division of Professional Relations on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the National Meetings. Lunch is FREE and the networking is invaluable
 - Utilizing an Innovative Project Grant fund (IPG), SCHB began participating in other scientific society meetings such as AAAS Meeting, APS March Meeting and CLEO Conference
- New in 2015:
 - Discounted SOCMA membership for SCHB members
 - Participation in an International Conference: Pacificchem in Honolulu, HI
- Start your meeting out right with a Sunday morning networking breakfast with the SCHB Executive Committee. Breakfast is on us!

Patron Members

Interested in becoming a SCHB Patron?

SCHB objectives, as defined in the SCHB Bylaws II, Section 3, broadly include addressing legal, educational, regulatory, economic, and legislative needs, encouraging interaction among members and other organizations interested in promoting free enterprise among chemists, being a liaison between small chemical businesses and chemistry students, and providing expertise of its members to the Society for the betterment of the public.

Annual dues for Patron Members are $200.

Alternatively, become a Patron Member, starting at the $500 level by sponsoring an event at future National Meetings. These events include Meeting Breakfasts, Speakers' Luncheons, or Socials.

Special thanks go to our Patron Members, who are also Sponsors of SCHB events. In Philadelphia, Osha Liang, LLP is contributing to sponsoring Tuesday morning coffee before the PRES/SCHB session Chemical Businesses of the People, by the People, and for the People.

Welcome to our newest Patron Member, Saul Ewing LLP. And, a thank you to our renewing Patron Members for their continued support.

CURRENT SCHB PATRON MEMBERS

- Haukaas Fortius PLLC (www.hfglobalip.com)
Liaison Member: Michael Haukaas
- Osha Liang LLP (www.oshaliang.com) Liaison Member: Carlyn A. Burton
- Patriot Bioenergy Corp. (www.patriotbioenergy.com) Liaison Member: Roger Ford
- Saul Ewing LLP (www.saul.com) Liaison Member: Peter C. Lauro, Esq.
- Young & Thompson (www.young-thompson.com) Liaison Member: Dr. Robert Goozner

ACS Regional Meetings

L to R: Joe Sabol, Martin Bakker, [Elvis] and ACS 2016 President, Donna Nelson, discussing the chemical industry at SWRM/SERMACS 2015, Memphis TN, November 6, 2015 on the Small Chemical Businesses program track

ACS Local Section Meetings

Our most recent collaboration with a local section was on April 16, 2016 at the Oregon Science Startup Forum which was organized by the Portland Local Section featuring 19 instructors for a comprehensive day of start-up and chemical entrepreneurship training.

Funding for this event was derived from an Innovative Project Grant, the Portland Local Section, SCHB and other participating locally based chemical companies.

International Meetings

For our efforts at Pacificchem 2015, SCHB is named a FINALIST in TWO ChemLuminary Award categories at #ACSPHilly 2016

The Small Chemical Business Division of the American Chemical Society has been selected as a finalist for the following ChemLuminary Award(s):

1. Most Unique Project as Funded by a Division Innovative Project Grant

2. Global Engagement Award

